Today, with the change in lifestyle and the increasing interest in plants and nature, the desire to use plant-based cosmetic and personal care products has become a priority for most people. 'Elio' was created by combining the valuable experiences of two successful companies in the field of skin and hair care products, based on completely plant-based raw materials. Tabiat Zendeh and Fankam groups, by sharing more than twenty years of experience and facilities for manufacturing skin care and beauty products, realized the dream of a brand arising from nature with the best performance, in line with the needs of the country and competition with leading foreign brands. To this aim, the quality of the primary ingredients and natural extracts has been prioritized. A key strategy of Elio in making nature-oriented products is the selection of extracts produced with the highest degree of purity in the farms of Tabiat Zendeh, so that you can feel the energy of nature with every use of our products.
